October 09, 2025: On Insurrection Parades, Spy-Tech and Important Votes

Counsel for We, the People: Elon Musk, did you create an ‘insurrection’ in order to anonymously install spy-tech within the chambers of the US House and Senate?

Counsel for We, the People: Donald Trump, did you create a ‘military parade’ in order to anonymously install spy-tech within the office buildings of important government agencies?

Counsel for We, the People: Legislators, are you being extorted to endorse illegal murders by the United States Military?

newsweek.com

Republicans vote down bid to block Trump’s strikes on alleged drug boats

By Robert BirselReporter27ShareNewsweek is a Trust Project member

4–5 minutes

Senate Republicans on Wednesday blocked a measure aimed to prevent U.S. strikes on boats the Trump administration says are transporting narcotics off the coast of Venezuela.

Why It Matters

Military action by the United States in the Caribbean under President Donald Trump has drawn strong condemnation and raised the concern of lawmakers in Washington. The U.S. strikes spur questions about the legitimacy and legality of U.S. military operations against suspected drug trafficking but also tests diplomatic relations between the U.S. and Latin American neighbors.